HITLER TURNS TO MOSCOW?

Masses Million Men To Capture Soviet Capital

ANKARA, June 9.

Hitler, is reported to have massed 70 divisions perhaps some one million men—for a new bid to capture Moscow, which will be launched shortly.

REDS SHELL GERMAN POSITIONS

MOSCOW, June 9.

A supplement to to-day's 'communique' said that on the Central Front, artillery shelled the German positions. In one sector in the region of Sevsk, the Germans attacked with two infantry battalions supported by tanks. Repelling the enemy attack, the Red Army killed about two companies of Axis Infantry.

Attempt To Force Crossing Smashed

(From Reuter's Special Correspondent)

MOSCOW:—Local fighting has flared up in the northern Donetz front both north and south of Kharkov, according to Soviet front line despatches on Tuesday. Fresh German attempts to force a crossing of the Donetz in the area of Balakleya, the Soviet bridgehead 50 miles south-east of Kharkov, were smashed. Many Germans were drowned in the river as the Germans fell back to the western bank. A German attack was also beaten back in hand-to-hand fighting in the Byelgorod area, 50 miles north-east of Kharkov. Six German planes were shot down in air dogfights over this area.—Reuter.

BLACKS TO HAVE SAME PAY AS WHITES

(From Our London Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.

Announcing the War Labour Board's decision to pay the same pay to Negroes employed in war industries in the United States as that of the White workers for equal work, Dr. Frank Graham said:—

"This is the test of our sincerity and the cause we are fighting. The Negro is necessary for winning war. Here hundreds of millions coloured people are involved on the out-come of this war than the combined populations of Axis powers.

Roosevelt Swears Terrible Retaliation

WASHINGTON, June 9.

President Roosevelt stated that there is evidence the Axis Powers are making significant preparations to use gas.

He promised immediate retaliation if gas were used by the Axis. Any use of gas by any Axis powers should immediately be followed by the fullest possible retaliation on munition centres, sea ports and other military objectives throughout the whole extent of the territory of such Axis country, said the President.

Milford Haven Disaster, Not Due To Negligence

WESTMINSTER, June 9

The First Lord of the Admiralty Mr. A. V. Alexander informed the Commons that investigations regarding a disaster off Milford Haven in South Wales in April, when two barges were foundered, 72 members of the crews being drowned as well as six members of the boat endeavouring to aid the survivors, showed that the disaster was not due to any negligence. To meet modern war requirements numerous types of small craft had been built. These had proved extraordinarily good for their purpose and had made very long voyages with very few accidents. On this occasion the weather had deteriorated with unusual rapidity and the barges encountered high wind and sea and an unfavourable tide in a difficult and dangerous area. Five vessels raced to the scene but the barges were foundered.

For operational reasons a full report could not be published.—Reuter.

V. L. R. SCORES

LONDON, June 9

From Reuter's Air Correspondent: The "Vec Ell Ars" (very long-range aircraft) which, as Mr. Churchill told the House of Commons yesterday, have been responsible for closing the gap in the Mid-Atlantic area where air protection could not be given adequately to Allied convoys, are announced to-day by the Air Ministry to be Liberators equipped with special long-range petrol tanks which give them a range "of at least two thousand miles". The Air Ministry when releasing details of aircraft modifications is not usually so conservative in its statements. The Standard Liberator whose performance details have long been released carries a petrol load of 2,055 imperial gallons and is capable of a 2,500 mile range at 220 miles per hour, at 30,000 feet. The specially modified type intended to have V.L.R. would indeed cover at "least 2,000" and at least 3,000 is probably no exaggeration. Several squadrons of these specially adapted Liberators are operating from the western shores of the Atlantic working in co-operation with other Liberators from coastal command bases in Iceland and Ireland.

No Naval Disarmament Even After War

ANNAPOLIS, (Maryland) June 9.

The Navy Secretary, Col. Frank Knox told cadets at the Naval Academy here to-day that the United States would not lay up the present fleet in the hope of security by disarmament after the war. He said, "One of the greatest pitfalls into which we can be trapped is self-satisfaction or complacency. Ships have been sunk and men have been needlessly lost, because of self-complacency on their part or on the part of those above them. We must be ever on guard against over-confidence and under-rating our enemies. These are short cuts to failure and defeat. On a recent trip among our forces in the South Pacific, I was happy to see how much energy and thinking were being concentrated on the job in hand—blasting the Japs out of the air and off the sea. Although great and growing sea-power, we laid our strength upon the block after the last war in the illusory hope, that in disarmament, there was security and peace. We realise now what a mistake that was. We do not intend again to scrap the fleet we are building."—Reuter.

PANTELLARIA BOMBED AGAIN

Over 100 Air Attacks And Four Naval Bombardments During Past Month

LONDON, June 9.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa:—

The Navy bombarded Pantellaria on Tuesday, says an Allied 'communique.'

The text of to-day's Allied communique said: "A force of cruisers and destroyers bombarded the island of Pantellaria yesterday. Results were satisfactory. There was a certain amount of retaliatory fire, but our ships suffered neither casualties nor damage. The island was also attacked by bombers yesterday as on the previous night, enemy bases in southern Sardinia were bombed. Yesterday one enemy aircraft was shot down during the day. One of our aircraft is missing."—

341,000 AXIS PRISONERS AND KILLED

LONDON: It is authoritatively stated in London to-day that the Prime Minister's figures of 248,000 prisoners in Tunisia was the number taken since May 5, when the main attack began. Prior to that 43,000 prisoners were taken; so that, including the figure of 50,000 killed, the total of Axis prisoners and killed is estimated to be 341,000.—

ROME COMMUNIQUE

ROME: Pantellaria was again raided yesterday without respite and violently shelled by a large naval formation, to-day's Communique reports.

The Communique further reports an Allied air attack on Cabronia.

OVER HUNDRED AIR ATTACKS

The Rome radio said that the Allied naval and aerial offensive against the island of Pantellaria reached the climax in the past few days after a steadily increasing pressure.

From May 9th to yesterday, the island sustained four naval bombardments and at least one hundred distinct air attacks. In the last nine nights, Allied bombing had been uninterrupted. The Allied offensive caused serious damage—

RAILWAY INSTALLATIONS IN SICILY ATTACKED

VALETTA (Malta): To-day's R. A. F. 'Communique' says "Last night, our intruders attacked railway communications and installations in Sicily and south-eastern Italy.

From this and other operations one fighter was lost but the pilot is safe."—Reuter.

New Offensive In Mediterranean Begun

LONDON, June 9

Reuter's military correspondent writes:—There seems no reason to doubt that a new offensive has already begun in the Mediterranean and that the islands of Pantellaria and Lampedusa have been the Allies' first objective. It is to be expected that Rome will play up the heroic defence of Pantellaria, both military and civilian, but after the air and naval bombardment which has been proceeding uninterruptedly for some weeks, it would be very unreasonable to expect the small force isolated on the island to offer more than token resistance.

Yesterday, the Italians reported an attempt at landing on Lampedusa which they claim to have repelled. It would not be surprising to find that they are fishing for information, communications with the island having but minor objectives in themselves. They lie in the path of the Sicilian narrows however and this fact gives them their only importance.

R.A.F. RECONNAISSANCE OF LAMPEDUSA

LONDON, June 9

An Admiralty 'communique' announces "our light surface forces carried out a reconnaissance of Lampedusa on sixth/seventh June. They suffered no damage or casualties. Only two of a landing party have not returned."—Reuter.

BIHAR MINISTRY PROSPECTS

PATNA, June 9.

The speculation on the formation of a Ministry in Bihar has greatly intensified and further developments are expected eagerly.

Considerable significance is attached to an interview which Mr. Yunus, the ex-Premier, had this afternoon with His Excellency the Governor who arrived here from Ranchi to-day. The talks are said to have lasted over an hour.

Mr. C. P N. Sinha Leader of the Opposition in the Bihar Assembly is expected to meet His Excellency tomorrow morning.

The results of the activities of the two Party Leaders—Mr. Yunus and Mr. C. P. N. Sinha—who have been mentioned most prominently as being in the run for Ministry-making are expected to be known shortly

It is difficult to state accurately the party position in the Assembly at present, many Congress members out of a total of 97 in a House of 152 being in jail. Mr. Yunus and Mr. Sinha are the leaders of the Muslim Independent and the Coalition Parties which originally had a strength of 19 and 29 respectively, from each of which a number of members subsequently joined the Muslim League Party which now claims a following of 17. There are moreover seven non-party members in the Assembly.

Meanwhile the Congress Party in the Assembly has called a meeting on Sunday, June 13.—A. P.

Crime Against Members Of United Nations Shall Be Punished

WESTMINSTER, June 9.

Answering a suggestion in the House of Commons that these military leaders as well as the Nazi chiefs should be held personally responsible for the safety of the hostages, Mr. Eden replied: "I am glad of the opportunity of stating publicly that the German military leaders, like the Nazi political leaders will be liable to punishment for any crimes for which they can be shown to be responsible against members of the United Nations."

Talks Between Owners & Labour Representatives Reach Deadlock

WASHINGTON, June 9.

A new deadlock in the coal dispute was threatened on Tuesday when owners and miners failed to reach an agreement after hours of bargaining.

If a solution is not found in the next 24 hours owners probably will report the failure to the War Labour Board whose task then will be to adjudicate.

As Mr. John Lewis is not likely to admit jurisdiction of the Board, the outlook is regarded on all sides as dark.

Meanwhile, the House Senate Conference made little if any progress in efforts to reach a compromise on the anti-strike legislation.

Virtual breakdown of negotiations of soft coal owners and miners developed on Tuesday when Mr. John Lewis emerged from the conference room renouncing owners.

Mr. Lewis said, "The conference was a farcical proceeding in every respect—a stultification of collective bargaining. The sullen and morose attitude of owners is an insult to miners and to national interest".

With that Mr. Lewis strode out of the hotel. Owners are now drafting a report for the War Labour Board.—Reuter.

The Rajasaheb of Aundh appointed an inquiry officer of the State, associated by a member from the A. G. G.'s Staff and an officer of the Government Supply Department to investigate the whole case. From the report and evidence submitted by the inquiry officer, the Rajasaheb on June 2, issued a statement concluding that no fire-arms were made at Kirloskarwadi and that the finds made during the raid left a large scope for doubt and must be the work of some mischief-maker having a grudge against the concern."—A. IMPERIALIST RESERVATIONS

It is curious that the Ceylon Board of Ministers has accepted without any serious objection the British Government's declaration on constitutional reform. It appears that the Ministers have interpreted the declaration very liberally and have accepted it only tentatively. The imperialist policy behind the declaration is of interest, not to Ceylon alone, but also to all victims of British imperialism as it is indicative of the latest trends of colonial policy. It naturally reminds one of Mr. Churchill's recent threat that Britain "will hold her own". The declaration is to the effect that there is to be no constitutional advance of any kind during the war and that whatever measures of self-government may be conceded after the war will be subject to several imperialist reservations. The main reservation is that the British Government will retain full control of defence and external relations. This by itself is a large encroachment on self-government to the extent of practically nullifying it. It will also adversely affect civil administration. The Declaration itself makes it clear that reservation will extend to Bills "which (a) relate to royal prerogative, rights and property of His Majesty's subjects not residing in the island and trade and shipping of any part of the Commonwealth; (b) have evoked serious opposition by any racial or religious community and in the Governor's opinion are likely to involve oppression or unfairness to any community; and (c) relate to currency." The island's commercial relations will also be subject to special agreements and the grand assurance is given that "His Majesty's Government will be pleased to assist in any negotiations with this object." This will remind Indians of the similar but more frequent assurance of assistance in communal negotiations. It will also remind Indians of the bogus fiscal autonomy which is supposed to be now enjoyed by India but which makes Ottawa Pacts possible. Finally, it will most forcibly remind one of the sinister implications of intervention in communal disputes.

Not less intriguing is that part of the Declaration which refers to the procedure for the framing and implementing of that part of the constitutional scheme which deals with the transferred subjects. Even in this limited sphere there is no real self-determination. The Declaration provides for the examination after the war "by a suitable commission or conference of such detailed proposals, as the Ministers may in the meantime have been able to formulate, by way of a complete constitutional scheme subject to the clear understanding that acceptance by His Majesty's Government of any proposals will depend firstly upon His Majesty's Government being satisfied that they are in full compliance with this declaration, and, secondly, upon their subsequent approval by three-quarters of all members of the State Council of Ceylon.' It will be clear from this that the final decisions will be taken by a Commission appointed presumably by the British Government. Meanwhile, the Ceylon Ministers may amuse themselves with any proposals which, even if unanimous, may not be accepted by the Commission. In no case will a scheme be accepted unless it is approved by a three-fourths majority in the State Council. For the British Government to constitute themselves as the final arbiters of all communal disputes and at the same time to demand a three-fourths majority for any scheme of reforms is indicative of a policy which is all, too, familiar in India and which, the present Declaration warns us, we have yet to reckon with in the future.

The Indians in Ceylon have many grievances against the local Cabinet. But they should beware of asking for, or approving of, any scheme of minority safeguards which is inconsistent with Ceylon's autonomy. Complete self-government is the ideal in India; so should it be in Ceylon. Free India and free Ceylon can easily settle their differences, if any. But there is endless danger in the imposed intervention of a third party. The "Ceylon Observer" referring to the stipulation for 75 per cent majority agreement in the State Council declares that this savours dangerously of the discredited method of laying undue stress on communal and sectional differences. Every care should be taken to see that the discredited method is not adopted. Referring to the imperialist reservations in general, the Ceylon Ministers hope that they "will decay from disuse." The fulfilment of the hope depends less in Britain's generosity than on the preparedness of the people of Ceylon to stand up for their constitutional rights.

Invasion Prospects

While events alone can really justify anticipations Mr. Winston Churchill's speech in the House of Commons has been rightly welcomed as indicating the nearness of "the zero hour." He has not used the word "invasion," but, for the first time, he has referred to the immediate future in significant enough terms. "Amphibious operations of a peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale," he declared "are approaching." It is, moreover, also noteworthy that the prospects and preparations did excite his enthusiasm which he later toned down not to positive caution but to sober, solid optimism. That great operations are now impending is confirmed in interesting detail by the American Brigadier General, Daniel Noce. He is reported to have stated in London that everything was ready, including the choice of the landing point, and that all that was awaited was the word "go."

So an invasion appears, after all, to be coming, and on "a large scale", too. No details can, of course, be known as to the extensiveness of it. But it is more than likely that it will affect many points of Axis Europe, both in the west and in the Mediterranean area. The Allies have the initiative and also the armies, well disposed and in adequate strength for such operations. But these operations are going to be hard and tough, the hardest that British and American armies have undertaken so far. And the British Premier was eminently wise in sounding the warning that they will be "of a peculiar complexity and hazard." The Allies are bound inescapably to meet a good many disappointments, suffer great losses and experience reverses even before they secure satisfactory footholds in Axis occupied Europe. But all these tests and trials have naturally to be gone through if some of the weight is to be taken off Russia, and if, indeed, the war is to be won.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Roosevelt's Warning

The stern warning which President Roosevelt has given for the third time to the Axis regarding the use of poison gas is extremely significant. The warning has been prompted by reports that the Germans are producing gas in quantity. This indicates a possible intention to use it and, considering that the second front is imminent, the President has done well in giving a categorical notice of retaliation. It will be remembered that Mr. Churchill too, had given a similar warning some time ago. The use of poison gas will be a clear proof that the enemy, is in desperate straits. Roosevelt's statement shows that the Allies are ready for that kind of brutal and inhuman warfare and will not shrink from paying the enemy back in the same coin. It remains to be seen whether such warnings will have any effect but in the meanwhile what of Japan who, on unimpeachable evidence, has resorted to such diabolical methods more than once in China?

Argentina "Fiascoup"

Quite a new angle to the Argentinian situation comes to light with the statement of the famous Argentine author, Senor Max Dickmann, who is in Washington on a University lecture tour as a guest of the U.S. Government. "It seems to me, in view of the wholly reactionary turn of the Argentine revolutionary events," he says, "that the entire 'coup d'etat' was engineered and designed by President Castillo and is aimed at the establishment of a completely military dictatorship." He points out that the military had never been closely identified with the nation's politics and he seriously doubts if the present 'coup' can be described as a "bona fide uprising of the democratic pro-Allied factions." The resignation of General Rawson, whom Senor Dickmann describes as a democrat, is significant enough and the dissolution of Parliament can hardly be called a democratic act. It also appears that the Argentine Communist paper, "La Hora", has been closed down and other measures taken against Communists who are, in Argentine as elsewhere, staunch supporters of the "People's War." General Ramirez seems to be sparing no pains to make it clear that his new administration is definitely not pro-Allies. As to whether he will toe the Axis line as manifestly as his predecessor, Castillo, that is doubtful. With the recent decline in the Axis fortunes, it is neither politic nor perhaps possible to whip up enthusiasm for a losing cause.

All-India Radio, Bombay

The "sarangi" has taken the place of harmonium at the All-India Radio, Bombay and Mr F. J. Vakil, your correspondent, seems to be tired of ill-tuning and contempt-breeding screechings, especially during its sojourn into the third octavo. May I inquire how many "sarangies" are available at the station? Is it possible that two or three sarangies" can be tuned, properly for all hours and all artists of the full day's programme? But what about the "sarangiwalas", engaged by the Station? Are they able to play all the five notes of the classical music? Do they understand minute shades of musical notes based on shruties and saunvads? Is the Bombay Radio Sarangiwala able to bring out on the instrument correct notes of different shades of Gandhar in Todi, Bhairvin, Jaunpuri, Asavari and Darbari?

As the studio cannot supply such Sarangivalas, it was decided, I think by Mr. Bookhari, when he was the Director here, that those artists who could sing without the accompaniment of "sarangi" should be given Rs. 10 as extra compensation. Will you be surprised that, instead of paying Rs. 10 more, some of the artists have been compelled to receive Rs. 10 less and who are still singing with the help of the Janpura alone? Is it a reward or penalty? And who is responsible for this injustice?

Our Tramways

It is clear as daylight, that the B.E.S.T. Co., is unable to cope with the Bombay traffic, especially during office hours, in the morning and evening. Will it now accept my old suggestion, and arrange to have two kinds of halts—each alternative halt compulsory and "if required". That is the practice in Calcutta and partly in Delhi. This will save the time of the public, facilitate quick return of tram cars, and enable the authorities to cope with the traffic satisfactorily. Will the B.E.S.T. Co., listen? If it has compulsory and "if required" halts for the buses, why can't they adopt the same method in regard to their tramways? Buck up, B.E.S.T. Co!

Harvard University Committee To Study Post-War Education Problems

CAMBRIDGE, Massachusetts, June 8.

Harvard University, America's oldest higher educational institution, has appropriated dol. 60,000 and appointed a committee of professors to embark immediately upon a two-year study of post-war problems of education, it was announced here to-day. Several of the appointees have been relieved of their academic duties in order to give full attention to promoting the aim of "broad and general education in a free society," based on the recommendations laid down in the annual report of Dr. James B. Conant, President of Harvard University.

Dr. Conant's report predicts sweeping education advances after the war and urges a system by which the average citizen will have the maximum of cultural opportunities and exceptional talent will receive recognition and support on all academic levels.

The report says in part:

"The problem is not how to prevent annihilation of the study of the arts and letters but how to adapt the admirable tradition of education to our modern age. Such an adaptation is long overdue. Therefore, the period of stress and strain on which we are now entering may well prove beneficial. Academic institutions are among the most conservative in human history. An occasional jolt may be wholesome; it forces adjustments to meet the new needs of society.

"The basis of a free society is the education which the society provides. The problem concerns the general education of young men and women both on school and college levels. Scholars, teachers, philosophers, administrators, professors and schoolmasters should unite in a thoroughgoing inquiry. They know for what we fight. Let them attempt to formulate policies by which our ideals may be perpetuated when the war has ceased. In short, let us attempt to formulate general education for free men in the nation, dedicated to principle of educational opportunities for all. Surely the most important aspect of the whole matter is general education for the great majority of each generation, not for the comparatively small minority who attend four-year colleges.

"There is nothing new in such educational goals—what is new this century in the United States is their application to a system of universal education. The primary concern of American education to-day is not the development of an appreciation of the 'good life' in young gentlemen born to the purple—it is the infusion of a liberal, humane tradition into the entire educational structure."—U.S.O.W.I.

MINISTRY-MONGERS BUSY

C. P. CONGRESS ASSEMBLY PARTY TO CLARIFY ATTITUDE

NAGPUR, June 9.

A statement announcing that the C. P. Congress Assembly Party will shortly meet and decide the action to be taken on the question of forming a Ministry in C. P. has been issued by Mr. V. R. Kalappa, Secretary of the C. P. and Berar Congress Legislative Assembly Party.

Mr. Kalappa says: "As Ministry-making in this province was still in the offing, there was no need to express any opinion on a move which might not materialise. But I find that all kinds of specious arguments are being advanced to persuade Congressmen to support, if not join coalitions. Congress members of the Assembly who are outside the jail cannot act individually, as they belong to the greatest political organisation in the country, and they are bound by party discipline. Arrangements are therefore being made for convening a meeting of members of the Congress Assembly Party in order to evolve some concerted action. In the meantime, Congress members of the Assembly cannot express any opinion individually or act independently."—A. P.

Frontier By-Elections

PESHAWAR, June 8.

An Appeal to Dr. Khan Sahib to contest the by-elections to the Frontier Assembly and give a befitting reply to the League Ministry was made by Rai Bahadur Mehrchand Khanna addressing a meeting under the auspices of the Hindustan Scouts Association.

Rai Bahadur Mehrchand promised the support of the Hindus and Sikhs to the Congress and declared that in case the Congress ultimately decided not to contest the by-elections the three Hindu-Sikh seats would be contested on the issue of Akhand Hindustan.

The speaker did not approve of the unconstitutional manner in which an attempt had been made to resolve the deadlock in the frontier.—A. P.

FRONTIER CONGRESSMEN TO DECIDE TO-DAY

PESHAWAR, June 9

The Congress leaders of the Frontier Province are meeting to-morrow for consultation in the village of Guligarhi to decide whether they should contest the bye-election to the Frontier Assembly and the forthcoming municipal elections. It is expected that non-Congress Nationalist leaders will also attend the meeting.

Savarkar's Dictum To Hindu Sabhaites

BOMBAY, June 9.

"Coalition Ministries if they are actuated by patriotic and just motives can be an effective process which will train us up in team work, remove the sense of alienation and lead to national consolidation in spite of racial and credal differences," says Mr. V. D. Savarkar, President of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha, in a statement. Mr. Savarkar lays down some leading principles for the guidance of the Hindus in general and Hindu Mahasabhaites in particular.

He says: In the Hindu-minority provinces whenever a Moslem Ministry seems inevitable, whether it is a League one or otherwise, and Hindu interest would be served better by joining it, the Hindu Sabhaites in particular should try to do the best they can to safeguard the interest of the Hindu minority. But they should oppose publicly every attempt on the part of the Moslem ministry to support Pakistan or the principle of self-determination to secede.

The leading principle which must be emphasised is that boycotting the Ministry altogether is bound to be more often than not highly detrimental to Hindu interest.

Under the present circumstances especially, the Hindu Sabhaites and the Hindu Sangathanists should try to capture as many constitutional posts of vantage as possible so as to assert the right of the Hindu party as an indispensable constituent factor apart from the League or the Congress in any future constitution to be framed after the war.

It is a misnomer, says Mr. Savarkar, to call a Ministry a League one or a Moslem one simply because the Minister-in-Chief or the majority of the Ministers happen to be Leaguers or Moslems.

KEEP OUT PAKISTAN ISSUE

In the Hindu majority provinces the Hindu Sabhaites and Hindus in general should take up the lead to see if it is feasible to form a coalition ministry. But the question of Pakistan or provincial self-determination to secede must entirely be left outside the ministerial scope, of these provinces, as one which could be raised after the war is over. The Leaguers or Moslems should be invited to join the Ministry but their number in the ministry should not far exceed the proportion of their population, and the Minister-in-Chief must always be a Hindu pledged to safeguard the legitimate interest of the Hindus.—United Press.

HARD CREASE FOR INDIAN CRICKET CHIEF!

Subbaroyan In Touch With Member Of British Cabinet To Find Key To Deadlock

MADRAS, June 9.

Dr. P. Subbaroyan, former Minister of Madras, is in correspondence with a very prominent member of the British Cabinet with a view to resolving the present deadlock in India and to establish a National Government at the Centre.

It is gathered that Dr. Subbaroyan has not upto now been able to convince the Cabinet member that the Congress sympathy is with the United Nations and that the Congress wants power to be vested in the representatives of the people chosen from all parties in order to mobilise the people for the defence of India and an all-out aid to the United Nations.

Dr. Subbaroyan, however, is continuing the correspondence with the Cabinet member and hopes to be able to convince him of the fairness of his claim.

Interviewed, Dr. Subbaroyan said he could not disclose the correspondence between him and the Cabinet member at present.—United Press.

Judges Order Contempt Summons To Be Served On Police Chiefs

CALCUTTA, June 8.

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Gentle of the Calcutta High Court to-day issued a rule calling upon four members of the Calcutta Police, including Mr. J. V. B. Janvrin, Deputy Commissioner, Special Branch, to show cause why they should not be committed for contempt.

The present application arose out of the 'habeas corpus' application before the High Court on behalf of several detenus under the amended Rule 26 of the Defence of India Rules.

The petitioner in the case, Miss Mira Dutta Gupta, stated that a special bench of the Calcutta High Court, by a majority decision on June 3 ordered release of all the detenus, in the 'habeas corpus' case, including Mr. Niharendu Dutt Majumdar, M.L.A., in pursuance of the direction given by the Special Bench the detenus were present in the court to receive their judgment.

After the court had ordered their release Mr. Dutt Majumdar stepped out into the corridor followed by his counsel, Mr. J. C. Gupta.

He was immediately pounced upon by a person in civilian clothes who gave his name as Syed Hasan, an Inspector of Calcutta Police.

NO ORDER

No order was shown to Mr. Dutt Majumdar, nor was any reason given as to why his arrest was effected.

This incident took place before 4 P.M. while the court was sitting.

The case of the petitioner, who was present when the occurrence took place, was that the conduct of the police officers made it clear that the police intended to set the authority of the court at naught and thereby bring the High Court into contempt.

The petitioner further stated that Khan Sahib Abdul Gaffur, Assistant Commissioner of Police, told her that the arrest was effected within the court premises AFTER THE AUTHORITY OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF BENGAL HAD BEEN OBTAINED FOR THE PURPOSE, when this portion of the petition was being read out.

The Chief Justice remarked, "I want to make it clear that I never gave any such authority."

Their Lordships as stated above issued the rule, which is returnable by the 15th instant and also directed that a copy of the notice be sent to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.—A. P.

Policeman Hauled Up For Contempt Of Court

LAHORE, June 9.

Mr. Justice Mohammad Munir of the Lahore High Court issued notice to-day to Kidarnath, Head Constable of the Kangra Police, directing him to show cause why he should not be dealt with for contempt of Court.

Kidarnath is alleged to have attempted to influence one Dhyansingh to withdraw his "Habeas Corpus" petition filed in the High Court.

MARGARET POPE BLAMES BR. GOVT.

Says India Must Be Properly Interpreted In Britain

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

Miss Margaret Pope, British traveller and journalist, gave her impressions this evening about the Middle East and India, at the Freedom Group at the Indian Merchants' Chamber Hall.

The speaker said that Palestine presented a classic example of Imperialism in practice. In Iraq and other Muslim countries, she observed a great sense of nationalism. But, to study the practice of Imperialism in a blatant manner, one had to come to India.

BR. PEOPLE v. BR. GOVT.

She believed fervently in Indian freedom. The British had blundered terribly in India. But it was wrong to think that the British people stood for the same things for which the present British Government stood. It was a pity there was practically nobody to interpret the real India to them. As for the journalists who visited India, they did not maintain any high standard—all, except Louis Fischer.

Prof. P. A. Wadia presided.

A very severe earthquake shock, probably 9,000 miles away in the South Pacific, was recorded at 8-55 p.m. G.M.T. yesterday by the West Bromwich Seismographist Mr. J. J. Shaw.

At 1-32 a.m. G.M.T. yesterday Mr. Shaw's instruments recorded an earthquake of medium intensity 690 miles away which, he said, corresponded with the seismic zones of Italy.

BOMBAY, June 9.

The Government of Bombay have issued the following press note:—"The monopoly of selling Government grass at reasonable rate given to the Bombay Humanitarian League terminates to-morrow June 10 and grass merchants will be free thereafter to import grass from Thana and Surat districts into Bombay city and Bombay Suburban district.

The Government of Bombay does not propose to control the prices of hay at present but if it is found that the grass merchants do not sell grass at reasonable rates the Government will be compelled to take necessary measures to prevent profiteering and protect the interests of cattle owners in Bombay."—A. Recent additions to the ever-growing list of Viceregal Probables are two Australians: Messrs. R. G. Casey and Stanley Bruce.

Both are eminently qualified in our opinion. It is time for Britain's "beloved" Australia to take a hand in ruling India. Indeed, a few South Africans, Canadians and New Zealanders should also be seriously considered for Viceroyalty and various Provincial Governorships. After all what is the sense in having a "beloved" family of "British Commonwealth of Nations" unless its members collectively and jointly own and govern India and the colonies.

The plain facts which, Anglo-India strongly urges the transport services authorities to face, are: growing number of bus and tram passengers, dwindling possibilities of repairs and replacements and the improbability of getting normal supplies from abroad "for several years."

You would probably think our contemporary was pleading on behalf of an indigenous automobile industry. You would be foolishly wrong. No Anglo-Indian paper could be so silly and unpractical—you may add a few more relevant qualifications if you like—as to suggest such a solution of a crisis that is going to endure for "several years."

The real and only effective remedy, is, of course, is—Lend-Lease. Yes, Sir, Lease-Lend.

Here is a fairly compact and at least equally lucid paraphrase of the main part of Mr. Churchill's speech to the Commons:—

"Coming COMING, comming, comm—which reminds me...I am sorry that a few days ago in the press of travel of affairs, I let slip the expression 'brilliant prospects lie before us.' I would prefer to substitute the words 'brighter and solid prospects lie before us."

By the way, the Junior Colleague read Mr. Churchill's exciting declaration as "ambiguous operations of a peculiar complexity and hazard."

CITY MARKETS

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

SHARES : The Government has banned forward business in cotton and other markets and little business what is being done at present in shares and which cannot be exactly called forward is reported to be drawing Government attention. This business has nothing to do with war efforts or supplying the needs of poor people. On the contrary it is the only source of employment of funds and if any action is taken against it, earning capacity of money will be lowered and will result into many difficulties. Of course excessive speculative activity is not desirable and the governing body will do well to watch over the activities of individuals and in case of need prompt action must be taken to allow the normal functioning of the market.

The market was quietly steady to-day with a moderate business and quotations fluctuated within a narrow range. Tata Steel Dfds. opened at Rs. 2,000 and after declining to Rs. 1,995 improved to Rs. 2,012. Ordinary Shares were quoted at Rs. 403, Bombay Dyeing Shares opened at Rs. 1,930 and hardened to Rs. 1,945 while Century Mill Shares opened at Rs. 795 and advanced to Rs. 807.

Later on there was moderate buying in Bombay Dyeing Shares which improved to Rs. 1,965 while other scrips were steady.

Towards the close there was increased buying in Dyeings and Century Shares while Steel Shares ruled steady. Closing tone was very steady.

BULLION : Yesterday London Gold was unchanged at 25-8-0. Dollar Sterling Cross Rate was 4.02-1/2 to 4.03-1/2 at London and 4.03.3/4 at New York. London Spot and forward Silver quotations were unchanged at 23-1/2d. and New York Spot Silver was placed at 44-3/4 cents. The local market was weak to-day on increased selling pressure. It is reported Kathiawar Silver is coming for sale and demand is poor. Gold was also easy with restricted demand. Ready Silver was quoted at Rs. 122-8. Ready Gold Rs. 80-8 and Sovereigns were quoted at Rs. 57-8.

SEEDS : The local seeds market was quiet to-day with a restricted demand. Ready groundnuts bold were quoted at Rs. 105 and Khandesh quality stood at Rs. 108. It appears that urgent demand is well satisfied.

"Don't you wish you had HIS energy?"
She has every right to boast about her fine, strong son! She knows it's due to her that he's always bursting with energy. For a child's strength easily becomes exhausted unless used energy is quickly replaced—and only Mother can see that he gets food which will replace used energy. This is where energising, vitaminised Dalda is such a boon. Used energy can only be replaced by nourishing food with vitamins in it. And Dalda adds extra nourishment and vitamin to food—thus making sure that energy is always fully replaced, and giving more energy too.
DALDA—with its VITAMIN content—helps build strong bodies, replace used energy . . . Vitaminised Dalda is a pure cooking medium with a high energy-value. When meals are prepared with it, Dalda gives extra energy-value to all the food. As so many foods are deficient in vitamin, deficient in energy-value, it is wise to prepare all meals with Dalda—for safety.

But the War has also brought with it considerable inconvenience to the Civilian Trade whose support has always contributed to the growth of the Mettur Chemical & Industrial Corporation—whose cooperation today lends important assistance in serving the Country. Perhaps, all the requirements of the Civilian Trade are not as promptly or fully met as before. Their patience is requested until such time as we can render the same efficient service after the War.
